MICROFORM ACADEMIC PUBLISHERS

NEWSPAPERS OF THE 1956 HUNGARIAN UPRISING

In connection with a book which David Irving wrote between 1974 and 1980 about the Hungarian Uprising of October 1956, he paid several visits to Budapest, and obtained a unique collection of the revolutionary newspapers that were printed during the days of the triumph and defeat of the anti-Communist revolution. There follows a listing of those included on this microfilm. On subsequent sheets a series of excerpts translated into English is also microfilmed. Also included is one random Austrian newspaper of the period.
